Yesterday, Today and Tomorrow

The lives and dedication of our Founding Fathers and Mothers are constant reminders that we are blessed beneficiaries of a freedom earned by great sacrifice of property, reputation, and life. It is our responsibility and opportunity to instill the sacred principles contained in our remarkable heritage into the hearts and minds of our youth. We have the obligation to rekindle the flame of liberty that existed well over two hundred years ago among those who pledged their lives, their fortunes, and their sacred honor—to nurture, teach, cherish and protect our Constitutional Freedoms given to us by God.
